

Update on CA 2502-73, Ex Sess transcript suit HW 4/3/73

As he was getting read to leave town Lesar phoned me yesterday to read some of the government's answers to our second set of interrogatories. They are helpful, we both think. In them, aside from the general practise of federal misrepresentations, distortion and deception, there is some fact and some admissions that earlier statements in court, in interrogatories and in an affidavit were not truthful. The effect, if any, on the judge, remains to be seen. However, this experience persaades me that using the method available, filing interrogatories, is a good approach that can help build a record. Not only for use in court but to amplify the available information about the WC and the method of handling files and the overall concepts.
